Atkins High School

We, the class of 1958, are products of the times. We have never known, in its true sense, a period of normality. From war-time babies, whose parents lived with fearful hearts, we grew into youth of the "Sputnik Age."

We participated in progress never before witnessed by man. We were present at the birth of a dream and at the wholesome destruction of millions of dreams as the hydrogen bomb became a reality. The chain reaction of world events, with the help of time, have hurled us on the threshold of a greater life, college.

We are products of our times: the inventions, the miracle drugs, modern methods of living, fashion trends, television, sputnik, our personal joys, disappointments and rewards. High school has prepared us for our future life as surely as the world events that influenced us.

This yearbook is our account of a portion of those years, a vital, exciting and happy part, when we considered the Fall, remember the Winter, and look over to the Spring.

Student Council

JAMES ROUSSEAU
President

The main purpose of the Student Council is to improve our school by developing student responsibility, initiative, leadership and school pride, and by promoting desirable student-faculty relationships.

During the year 1957-58, the Council has sponsored an election campaign, distributed Thanksgiving baskets to the needy, sent Christmas packages to former Atkinites who are in the tuberculosis sanitarium, served as monitors in the building, sold caps and pennants in the school colors, sponsored assembly programs, conducted a citizenship campaign and entertained the winning classes in our Thanksgiving project.

This organization, composed of elected representatives from each of the record classes, is under the leadership of James Rousseau, president; Rodney Sumler, vice-president; Helen Royal secretary; and Graham Campbell, treasurer. Mrs. Frances Baird is the group sponsor.

ROW ONE: Y. Miller, L. Hatchett, S. Watkins, J. Rousseau, A. Anderson, J. Hampton, C. Hewton. ROW TWO: M. Harrison, M. Littlejohn, S. Kimbrough, R. Cain, A. Peters, C. Rucker. ROW THREE: B. Bonaparte, B. Robinson, V. Jones, D. Robinson, R. Moore, G. Thomas, V. Smith. ROW FOUR: W. McCoy, D. Cundiff, B. McCracken, A. Scales,

P. Williamson, C. Gwyn, R. Sumler. ROW FIVE: G. Campbell, W. Richardson, G. Hughes, A. James, H. Royal, G. Malloy. ROW SIX: C. McClinton, L. Amason, G. Duncan, G. Pauling, F. Lassiter, A. Ingram. ROW SEVEN: A. Gunn, W. Rogers.

Traffic

This group assists in the orderly movement of students between class changes. The members help enforce the rule governing the use of lockers.

This year's captain is Graham Campbell. The four lieutenants in charge of the floors are Willie Hairston, James Rousseau, Alton Gunn and James Gist. Mr. William Earl is supervisor of the group.

Library Pages

ROW ONE: C. Graham, V. Herring, M. Steele, M. Singletary, J. DeBerry.

Under the supervision of Miss Dyson, the Library Club enjoys reading and discussing best sellers, serving as pages in the library and making posters for displays.

The girls who belong to the Library Club take turns in serving as pages. They charge and renew books, receive new books, construct bulletin boards, arrange magazines, open mail, take inventory and help students to locate books.

The Travel Club, sponsored by Miss Gladys Roberson and Mrs. Katherine Meroney, was organized to broaden the student's geographical and historical culture.

Membership is extended to all applicants who keenly feel the necessity of expanding their store of knowledge in this area and are willing to work hard toward this end.

Community guests, missionaries, and exchange students from other countries have all contributed to the program. The culmination of the activities consists of a trip to be taken, within the state, to a point of world educational interest.

Officers for the year are Clyde Crosby, president; Minnie Wilson, vice-president; Brenda Gaither, secretary; John Turner, treasurer.

The Latin Club, Sodalitas Latina, is sponsored by Mrs. C. B. Gaines. The Latin Club sponsors an assembly program and a Latin exhibit annually in the school library.

Through the club the members have set forth the following aims: they tend to develop their historical and cultural background, to improve their mental habits, to develop the right attitudes toward social situations, to increase their ability to read, speak, and write English, and to develop their character.

Leaders Club

The purpose of the Leaders Club is to strengthen those students who desire to become officers of school organizations so that they might understand the duties and responsibilities of civic leaders. Activities in the meetings include discussion periods and practices in the use of parliamentary procedures.

Officers for this year are: Fred Tanner, Ernest Goodman, Mary Ledbetter, Ruth Gaither, Zella Nettles and Evelyn Hawkins. Mrs. Berdie Vaughn is the faculty advisor.

ROW ONE: E. Goodman, J. Rousseau, B. Smith, B. Scarborough, R. Gaither, F. Knox, Z. Nettles. ROW TWO: B. Parham, J. Lowrance, T. Reid, E. Hawkins, C. Reeves, M. Malone. ROW THREE: V. Cockerham, B. MAROON AND GOLD STAFF

This 1957-58 yearbook shows many hours of work that went into its publication. Work began at the beginning of the school year and was not completed until each person had received his annual.

Planning and executing the job of preparing the annual were the co-editors: Carolyn Bailey and Gloria Williams. Working as art editor was Kenard Rockette.

MAROON WAVE STAFF

Many hours of planning and writing were spent in room 214 where the hard-working journalists labored to "get the paper out on time." Nothing could beat the sighs of relief when the Maroon Wave was ready for distribution.

Doing a good job as Maroon Wave Editor-in-Chief was Prestina Williamson. Assisting her as Managing Editor was Haywood Wilson; Sports Editor was James Rousseau.

Mrs. Lois Woodland is faculty advisor of both publications.

Football

As we turn back the leaves of the "57" pigskin season, we find the Camels playing host to the West Charlotte Lions in their first conference game of the season. After four quarters of playing time the Camels chalked up their first victory. With the smell of success, the Maroon and Golders, led by quarterback John Thomas, pushed over five touchdowns and four extra points to defeat Second Ward of Charlotte for their second victory. Traveling to rocking city of High Point, the Atkins eleven invaded William Penn Tigers and cramped away with a revenging victory.

Before a large crowd, two undefeated and untied teams met on the Atkins gridiron, when the Camels played host to Dudley High of Greensboro. After the two immovable forces battled for four periods, the contest ended in a tie.

With end Thurmond Evans racing the length of the field on the opening kick-off, the Atkins gridironers invaded the Highland Rams and blanked the Gastonia eleven.

While racking their ancient rivals, the Yellow Jackets, the Maroon and Golders crushed the Carver gridmen at Bowman Gray Stadium, for their fifth conference victory.

Taking the road again, the Camels traveled to Raleigh and strolled away with a decisive triumph over the Little Blues.

With Coaches Warren, Oldham, Hollingsworth and Green leading the way, the Atkins pigskinners hopped a freight and slaughtered Washington High of Reidsville for their final game of the season, and completed their "57" season with a record of seven wins and one tie.

Typing Class

Typing is taught six hours per day here at Atkins. There are five classes in beginner's typing and one advanced typing class. The students in the beginner's course are taught the basic techniques for operating the typewriter, the improvement of typing skill, problem typing, typing for personal use, the business letter, tabulations, and manuscript typing.

The advanced typing class's work consists of how to improve typing power, problems in office procedure, office forms, making duplicate copies, the use of mimeograph, production work, and legal typing.

Jr. Engineers

In order to stimulate an interest in science and mathematics, the Junior Engineers Club is attempting to sponsor tours to places of interest, speakers in the fields of science or engineering, films and demonstrations that would tend to create an interest in the subjects mentioned above. Members are asked to work on projects which the club hopes to present at a Science Fair. It is the belief of the club that these projects will help bring about an interest in science and mathematics.

Photography Club

The purpose of the photography club is to create interest among the students to secure a general knowledge of how to use a camera. The club meets every Thursday afternoon. They develop films and print pictures.

Officers for this year are as follows: Annie L. Rice, pres.; Lester Reynolds, vice-pres.; Helena Jefferson, sec.; Zella Nettles, treas.

Mr. Miller is the director.

K. Jones, L. Reynolds, W. Richardson, M. Ashley, G. Campbell, L. Montgomery, G. Peoples, V. Halloway, Y. Miller, G. Wilson, P. Hash, L. Wilson, A. Brindell, T. Leggett, A. Rice, J. Rousseau, D. Thomas.

Trades Classes

AUTO MECHANICS

This group of boys learn the fundamentals of auto mechanics and then they practice on old cars until they can repair the good cars from bumper to bumper.

PAINTING

Two three hour classes in painting practice their trade daily. They paint homes inside during the cold weather and outside when the weather is warmer. Mr. Jesse McDonald is the instructor.

CARPENTRY

Under the instruction of Mr. Lassiter, these boys acquire the fundamental skills of building. They enjoy making and staining furniture for themselves.

MASONRY

The trowel, mortar and bricks are the trademarks of this class. Two large classes of boys learn to build houses inside daily and tear them down in an effort to learn to lay bricks.

SHEET METAL

The sheet metal class is in training to learn how to make and install air condition metal ducts, also to learn how to fabricate all types of metal parts out of sheet metal. The course is 1080 hours and meets every day at 12:00 to 3:00. Part of their training consists of maintenance and repair of all school property.

Carter, Horne, Smart, Holand, Chaskley, Geter, Miller, Williams, Moore, Hicks, Jones, Plowden.

PLUMBING

ROW ONE: R. Harper, W. Alexander, J. Mansel, E. Lindsay, H. White. ROW TWO: C. Cain, R. Mackins.

The plumbing class, under the instruction of Mr. Weaver, learns to repair and install the entire plumbing unit for homes and buildings. They study the course for two years. Upon completion they are ready to assume apprenticeship duties in the field of plumbing.

ELECTRICITY

The students in the electricity class meet three periods during the morning session, receiving instructions from Mr. Miller. They enjoy their class breaks but work very hard to acquire accuracy in electrical wiring and in radio.

The new students learn the fundamentals of electrical wiring, while the advanced students learn the fundamentals of the radio.

BACK ROW: C. Jones, R. Williams, R. Richardson, E. Revels, M. Ashley, A. Brown, J. Smith, J. Jackson, J. Hall, J. Todd, A. Lindsay, R. Gaddy, U. Hunter, and J. Boozer.

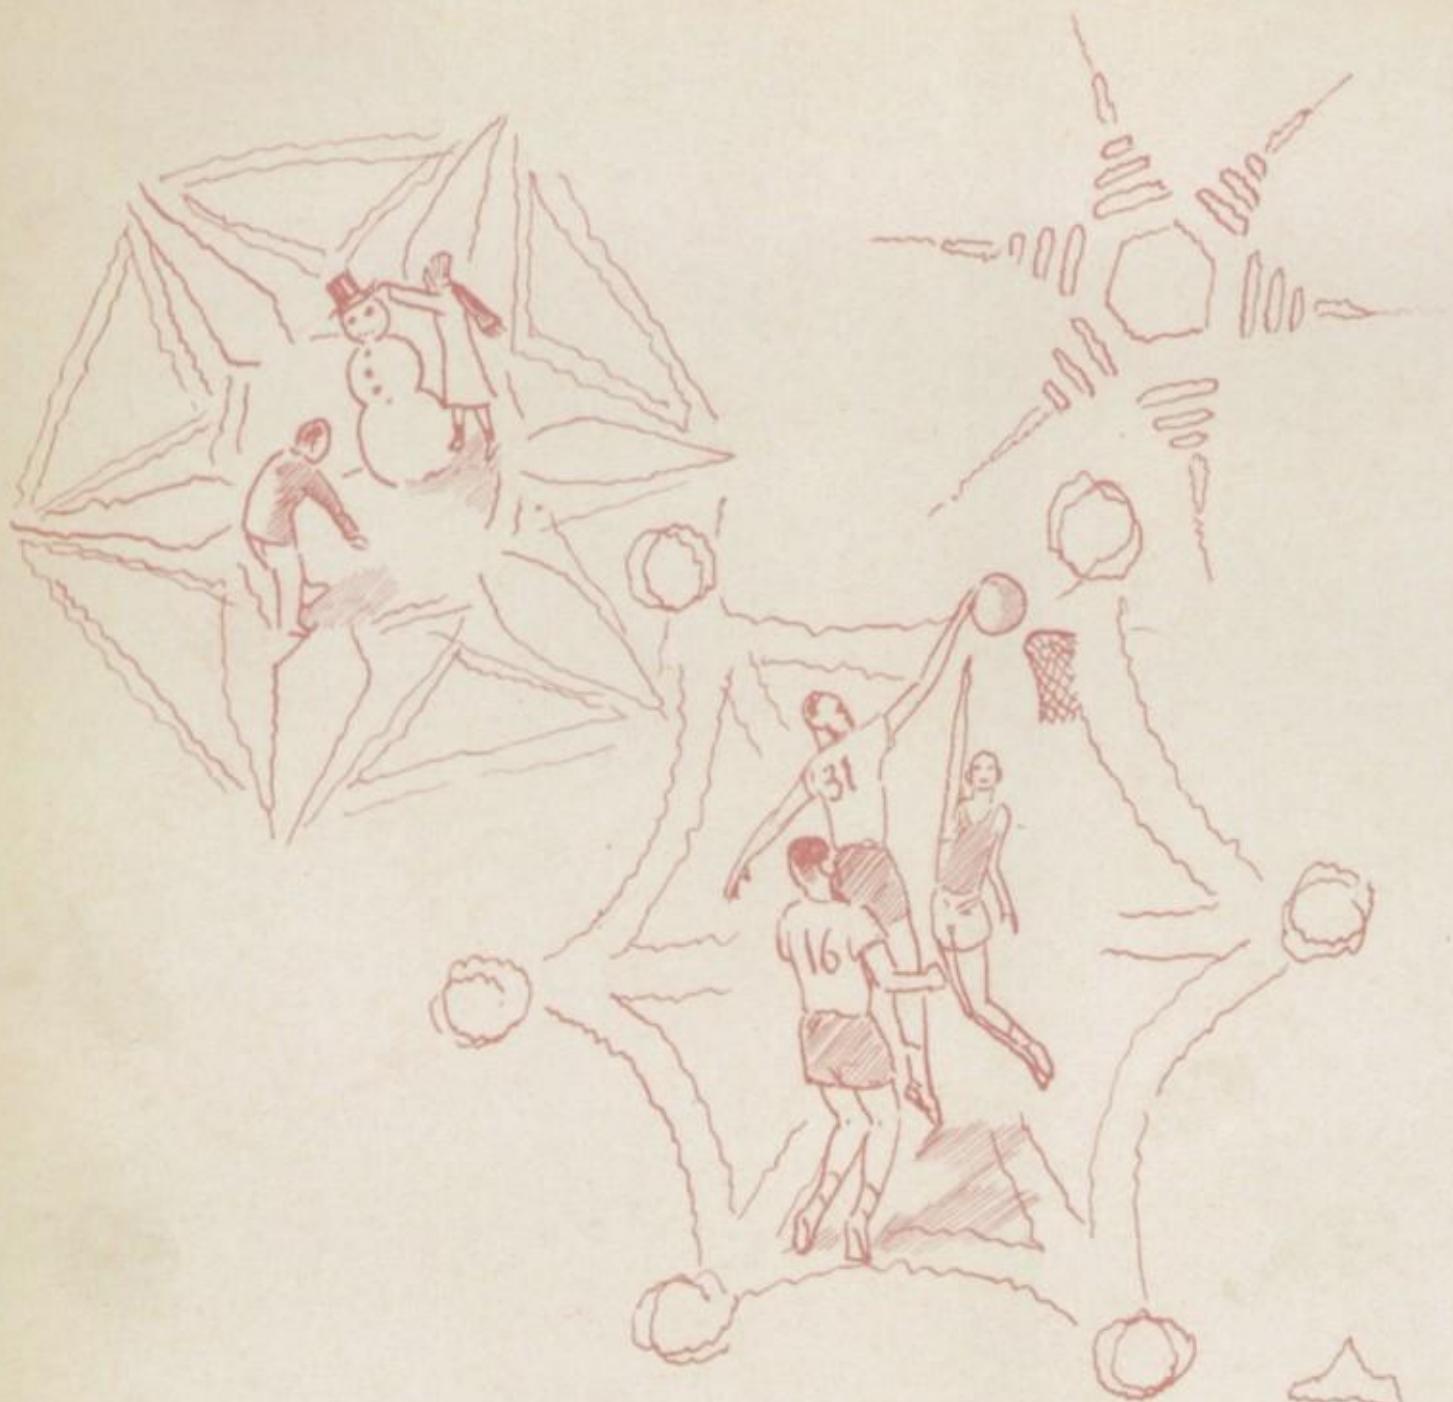

MACHINERY

Students taking the machinery course meet for three periods daily during the morning session under the supervision of Mr. Weaver. They enjoy a ten-minute break each day.

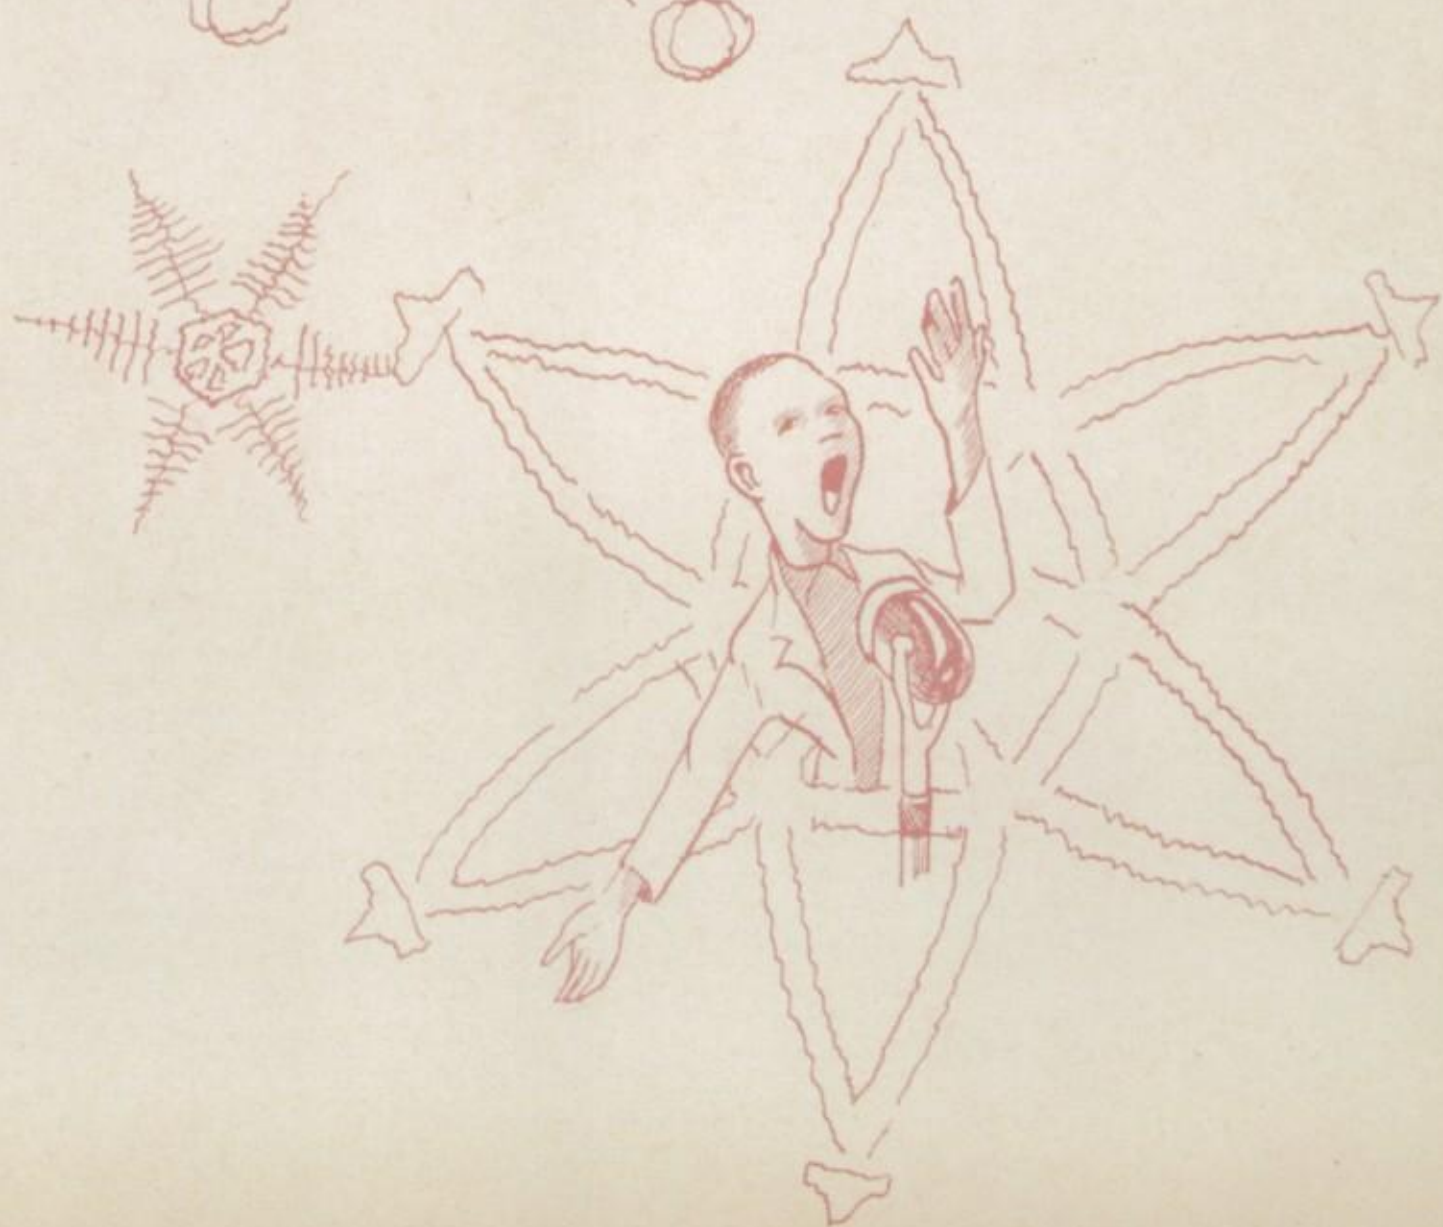

The new students work to acquire an accuracy of five thousandths of an inch tolerance allowed to them during the first six weeks. The students make such useful tools as hammers, screw drivers, drill presses, and emery wheel stands.

The Y-Teen group is a very successful one. Each year many girls all over the world join this group and offer their contributions in helping to accomplish the purpose of this group, to build a better world.

Each year the Y-Teens of Atkins High participate in school and community projects. It is a yearly custom for the group to fill baskets for needy families at Thanksgiving and send Christmas cards to other Y-Teens in far away countries.

The Y-Teens look forward to participating in the Y-Teen Recognition Services each year. Y-Teens throughout the city attend this service and are thus recognized as being Junior members of the Young Womens Christian Association.

The Atkins Camels, defending State Champions, proved to be the surprise team of the Western AAA Conference in the 1957-58 basketball season. Although the Camels ended its regular season's schedule with 17 wins and only three losses, they were defeated in the district tournament by High Point 56-52, thus losing their bid to enter the finals.

In the beginning of the season, Coach Green's task was to produce a caravan of outstanding Camels from lettermen: Howard Ridgill, Edward Robinson, Hubbard Alexander, James Price and John Thomas, and developed a team with all the potentialities of remaining State Champions.

This success was achieved without the presence of last season's great favorites: Eugene Werts, David Archie, and Bobby Williams, who bided the squad farewell at the end of the 1956-57 loop season.

Receiving their first defeat at the hands of Williston High of Wilmington, 46-45, the Atkins quint revenged this loss in their next contest, 66-64. The second loss of the season was handed to the quint by the Dudley High Panthers to the tune of 66-63 in an overtime period. The Camels were dealt their third loss by E. E. Smith of Fayetteville in a 64-45 net battle.

Having completed the season with a 17-3 record, the always outstanding Atkinites were highly favorites to cop the district title and be top competition for the State honors, nevertheless, the Atkins quint met the shabby five of High Point, whom they had walloped twice, on the second night of the district tournament, and absorbed a heart-breaking defeat to the tune of 56-52, thus losing their bid to enter the State finals.

Although cagers Robinson, Price, Thomas, Alexander, and Ridgill are bidding the squad farewell, the Camels' next twenty opponents will meet such men as Hessie Smith, Willie Porter, William Steele, George Archie, and Alonzo McCloud, and find that the Camels will not be denied.

Variety Show

Each year all the students look forward to the Variety Show. This program not only represents the students of the Music Department, but students of the entire school have an opportunity to portray their talents.

The program features singers, dancers, and comedians. This year the Variety Show was presented in the form of the Big Record, featuring hit songs of today and yesterday.

Variety Show

The members of the dance groups set the mood by dancing to popular tunes. The program gives a large number of students an opportunity to appear before the public. The performers often imitate the television stars. The show was directed by Mr. Harry Wheeler. This year Mrs. McIver assisted him by training the dancers. Miss Barnhill was pianist for the program.

The Atkins High School Chapter of the National Honor Society was organized January, 1958, for the purpose of recognizing those students who have been outstanding in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. It is the service of this organization to promote these four ideals among the members of the entire student body.

An impressive induction was held for the charter members. The program was witnessed by the P.T.A.

The Chapter holds its regular weekly meetings. The sponsor of the group is Mrs. Medora Hill.

The Hi-Y of Atkins High School is an organization sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., an international organization. The main purpose of this club is "to strengthen our character and friendship with our fellowman." For the year of 57-58 the Hi-Y participated in such activities as swimming, basketball, dances, parties, conferences and the Thanksgiving project.

The club sponsors a chapel program each year. This program is one of the highlights of the year for the club. Under the leadership of Mr. William Earl, the club has forty-one boys on roll. The officers are: Bruce Gaither, president; Randolph Roseboro, vice-president; Gene Chaskley, secretary; Lester Reynolds, treasurer.

Varsity Club

The Varsity Club is composed of athletes who have received letters in the various athletic activities here at Atkins. As its purpose the club plans to aid in supporting the athletic program. This year the club engaged in a contest with the faculty. The officers of the club are Samuel Benjamin, president; Fred Marshall, secretary; J. B. Sharpe, treasurer; and John Thomas, reporter.

The advisor is Mr. Benjamin Warren, the football coach.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Because the girls do not engage in intra-mural athletics, an intra-mural program for girls has been inaugurated in the high school.

The purpose of the program is to provide wholesome competitive competition for girls in such sports as tennis, softball, ping pong, basketball, and shuffle board.

Mrs. Marcelene McIver and Miss Doris Armstrong are in charge of gym classes for girls, from which classes the intra-mural program stems.

ROW ONE: R. Watts, E. Beathea, S. Davis, M. Davis. ROW TWO: S. Isley, A. Kellum, G. Mitchell, A. Gwyn, B. Harrington, C. Couthern.

Dance Group

These dancers spend hours perfecting their steps when it is time for the Variety Show. Mrs. McIver instructs them and suggests the costumes they wear on the stage.

Carolyn Bailey, one of the group, gave an interpretation of "Dance Africane" during the Musical Evening this spring.

G. Wilson, C. McClinton, B. Bailey, W. McCoy, D. Cunningham, B. Myett, D. Duncan, J. Jeffers, W. Gaither, B. Robinson, B. Watts, H. Hall, M. Bracy, B. Crosley, C. Bailey, B. Wilkins, and C. Leggett.

Coach George H. Green, who is experiencing his second year, is head baseball coach and assists with football and baseball. He also has the chores of gym instructor.

Coach Benjamin Warren, who is experiencing his third year, is head coach of the football squad. When Coach Warren is not teaching biology, he is found with the baseball team.

Coach Warren Oldham, a man with many talents, has enjoyed seven years here at Atkins. He teaches social studies. In his spare time he aids with football, basketball and baseball.

Coach William Hollingsworth, who is also experiencing his third year, is head baseball coach. When Coach Hollingsworth is not coaching baseball, he may be found either instructing gym classes, teaching biology or assisting with basketball and football.

"Le Cercle Francais"

The French Club, sponsored by Mrs. Velma Friende, meets the first Tuesday of each month to present to interested students a more detailed study of the French language than is offered in the classroom. "Le Cercle Francais" enables students taking first and second year French to develop a practical vocabulary in French, and stimulates a greater appreciation for the language and culture of France.

This year's officers are pres., Janice Jessup; vice-pres., Brenda Scarborough; sec., Shirley Brunson; asst. sec., Nancy Lynch; treas., Larry Womble; and reporter, Helen Royal.

ROW ONE: C. Massey, H. Blueford, L. Hatchett, J. Sinclair, P. Sanders, B. Scarborough, G. Sales, A. White. ROW TWO: S. Brunson, R. Cain, B. Smith, C. Reeves, D. Campbell, A. Gunn. ROW THREE: A. Home Economics

Ninety girls find homemaking fun under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Stephens. The girls learn to sew, to cook, to budget and to balance meals. In fact, they give attention to all phases of home life.

The girls can take this course for two years, receiving one unit for each year.

They are provided a beautiful room in which to work.

Jazz Band

The institution of the Atkins Jazz Orchestra began in 1952 as the outgrowth of the annual variety show. This show, a musical extravaganza which has run the gamut of both "popular music" and the "light classics," has provided many opportunities for students to exhibit their talents and interests in music, art, and the dance.

We, the pedagogues of music, are not only concerned with imparting the elements of sound fundamental music practices and appreciations, but also, with discovering talent and innate talents, arousing them to a recognition of their abilities and after exposing them to the best that is in us, sending them on to reach their potential through further practice and study.

The members of the Atkins Jazz Orchestra represent a group of young musicians who have mastered the required fundamentals, exhibited outstanding characteristics of leadership, cooperation, and musical potentialities. For these reasons this group enjoys a reputation second to none.

History

We, the senior class of 1958, nearing the completion of four wholesome years at Atkins High, pause to peer back into the dim mists of the past. As we watch we see dim shadows appear. These are the events of our four years here.

We first see smiling, freckled-face freshmen rushing through the halls, proud to at last be a part of this noble institution. At first we were shy and stayed to ourselves. As soon as we became accustomed to the change in our lives, however, we began to join clubs and participate in extra-curricular activities. Our contribution to the band was very impressive. We were represented by Carolyn Bailey, Jo Jean Lowrance, Barrie Mitchell, Carol Sawyer, Dordine Thomas, Jo Ann Truesdale, Walter Adams, Vernon Cockerham, Ernest Goodman, Clarence Gore, Lemuel Stinson, Fred Tanner, and Alvestus Williams.

We loved to sing even as freshmen, and so a dozen of us forward ourselves in the freshman choir. Among these were: Gloria Williams, Gloria Fuller, Shirley Wagner, Alice Barber, Evelyn Hairston, Pauline Miller, Lewis Crawford, Kenneth Jones, Graham Campbell, Brenda Parham, and James Rousseau.

We also wasted no time in putting fourth our best effort scholastically. Several of us continually ranked high on the honor roll.

On the gridiron and hard court our athletes showed their prowess and dexterity. Standouts on the football team were William Anderson, Hubbard Alexander, Clyde Crosby and Solomon Green. In basketball we were represented by James Price and Hubbard Alexander.

By the skin of our teeth, we managed to struggle through Latin, math, science, and other studies and passed to the tenth grade.

Time flies...the summer of '55 passed quickly, and before we knew it, we were returning to school.

Soon after school had re-opened, we were eagerly performing the task at hand. We had representatives in nearly all the school organizations. Our talented actors won city-wide acclaim. Among these were Gloria Fuller, Gloria Williams, Graham Campbell, Donald McKnight, and Kenneth Jones.

Several of us were promoted to the advanced band. Rosa Bulter, Valeria Cockerham, Gloria Watson, Richard Glymph, Theodore Caldwell, Bobby Moton, Kinard Rockette, as well as other seasoned performers played successfully on many occasions. In both the State and District Music Festivals in Greensboro, we received "superior rating."

John Thomas, Willie Ashford, John Smith, Fredrick Agnew, and James Mansel became members of the football squad. The names of several of our group were becoming "synonymous" with honor roll, because of the regularity with which they made and topped it.

Then came wonderful June. Thoroughly exhausted by the strenuous routine of school, we found blessed relief in all too short summer vacation.

Before our strength was restored, we found ourselves marching back to school to tackle our third year of high school. Our football team climaxed a very successful season by defeating arch rival, Carver, in a very close and exciting game. Our candidate for the coveted title of "Miss Atkins High" was Jo Ann Truesdale. The basketball team brought the basketball season to a close with a series of smashing victories in the State Tournament.

For having meritorious scholastic records, several of us were inducted into the Crown and Scepter Club. Verleria Cockerham, Jo Jean Lowrance, Rosa Butler, Gloria Fuller, Jo Ann Turner, Prestina Williamson, Shirley Wagner, James Rousseau, Vernon Cockerham, and Theodore Caldwell received this honor. Graham Campbell was elected Vice-President of the Student Council.

In the spring the Concert Band, following a long tradition, brought more prestige to Atkins with another of its "superior" rating in the State Music Festival. The Dance Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Wheeler, performed for the gala Junior-Senior Prom. This group of musicians were Fred Tanner, Alvestus Williams, Ernest Goodman, James Lomax, Tyrone Scales, Lemuel Stinson, and Clarence Gore.

We were represented on the baseball squad by Hubbard Alexander, Lemuel Stinson. Jacqueline Finney, Helen Royal, and Michael Ashley racked up the points for the tennis team.

The year was climaxed by Awards Day at which time several of us received certificates of merit for outstanding scholastic achievement.

The summer of '57 passed swiftly and at last the year of years had arrived. We were seniors! With the spirit of youth, we plunged into our studies. A few of our group were elected to positions of importance in several school organizations. Fred Tanner was elected president of the Senior Class and president of the Junior Engineers' Club; James Rousseau was elected president of the Student Council; Graham Campbell was selected as captain of the Traffic Squad; and Prestina Williamson was chosen editor-in-chief of the "Maroon Wave."

Both the football and basketball teams had very successful seasons. Mable Martin was chosen by the Senior Class as their candidate for the title of "Miss Atkins High" and, in a very close campaign emerged victorious.

On Monday night, January 20, 1958, in a very impressive ceremony in the school auditorium, a large number of seniors were inducted into the Atkins Chapter of the National Honor Society. Vernon Cockerham was elected president of this organization.

And now as the sands of time run low for us, we are overcome with joy at having been able to attend dear old Atkins. With fond remembrances of those who helped us greatly, we watch reluctantly as the sands of time run out. Farewell!!!
